

A Day at the beach and you are sure to find a small token of remembrance each time.

Much like the rain, shelter you must seek but this little version is funner with iced tea!

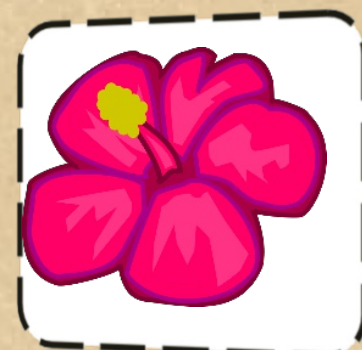

To search for a treasure or cover your friend be sure to dig quick but this is only for pretend.

Alone or in teams a good bounce is what you need to achieve!

Much like to ocean this flows rather fast, be sure to hold tight onto your glass. (fill water bottles)

To welcome you to a Hawaiian paradise, they give you these stringed together so precise.

Under water you can see the many wonders of things put there for you and me.

To build your castle and live in a dream you need to lay bricks with sand in between.

Near the water you may sometimes see me, I'm usually brown but I can also be green.

Some people use these to see, but I work better to block UV!
