

I am where the pool used to be. You sometimes use me so you can see.

I am near where things are stored, and when leaves fall, you'll use it more!!

I am soft where you gather eggs; but watch out, you might hit your head!!!

I am where you hang your coat, but it's not your body that's kept warm; it's your throat!

I am in a place where you'll find food that's not cold; lots love it, especially when they are old!

I am where you want to go to read a book and get warm from the snow.

I am in a place where cars are stored, but what you'll find here will be inside on the floor.

The place you'll find me lets you see RWA; but you have to look very hard, because you use me every day!

These you wear to see things that are small; but be very careful, you could break them and fall.

Now "I" am yummy hanging around in the kitchen somewhere, so it may take a while, so handle with care!
