

What is put on a table, cut, but never eaten? C

What book was once owned by only the wealthy, but now everyone can have it? You can't buy it in a bookstore or take it from a library?

In and out, like the tides, I go. Past the jaws, I move to and fro. If you lose me, find me fast, Or else my loss will be your last. What am I?

Walk on the living, they don't even mumble. Walk on the dead, they mutter and grumble.

What writes but sometimes dies, never needs to be sharpened, and does not have a left?

I have a hundred legs, but cannot stand, a long neck but no head; I ease the maid's life. What am I?

What is blank and needs thoughts, cannot think, but has a memory?

You can see nothing else When you look in my face, I will look you in the eye And I will never lie.

What is it that given one, you'll have either two or none?

What demands an answer but asks no question?
