

HAPPY new year

The opposite of exit is to -----So bring back a picture of the sign that shows the way.

A smile from a friend from another team would be nice and if they don't give you one you may want to put their head in a vice.

A place that sells hot beverages would be nice.

I love to go in the air back and forth. See if you can picture your team mate jumping out of me.

When it's cold out, you'll find yourself a wreck, without something to wrap around your neck.

This sure would be a pop if you could get a sign that just said - - - -.

Hoping a stranger would break into your house would normally be quite weird except at Xmas when you want a visit from this old man with a beard.

In the snow I can be found, a vision of loveliness all around. I am one of God's messengers for sure, now let's see your vision of me as pure.

A friend that licks you and rolls around is quite fun see if you can find one.

Last but not least your team must now switch clothes to beat the rest, come inside and hopefully past the test.
