

At the bottom of page two, when you get on edge...just look to your scholars and remember the TSTONE....

MYON, Gizmos, other programs too...have students jot here and they won't need to ask you!

Let the scholars set goals that they and their parents can see, on these, pages on this is where the data should be.

(Found in the agenda) At the end of each week- could use at the end of each day... the CHECK is a great tool to get thinking underway!

Scholars love to use technology, they think that it's fun. To keep safe while using technology, read deets on R-1

Mastery of facts is a skill that takes time but in the interim let schools use R-8 and R-9!

Use R-11 so scholars will know, what in their lunches should stay and should go.

Building vocabulary is important for all...document weekly words here instead of the word wall.

Tracking performance in reading and math...Use page 13 and 14 to share with mommies and dads.

Scholars have a daily schedule?... Some place special they go? Help them capture on page 9 so everyone knows.
