

a teacher who has or is teaching at a for-profit college, & willing to talk on camera about the difference someone who has worked at a for-profit college and can talk about the predatory marketing techniques someone with compelling adjunct teacher stories compelling stories regarding the narrowing of college curriculum someone who can speak to the standardizing nature of SLOs someone who can speak to the narrative of "failed" public colleges someone who can speak to the college-to-work pipeline an expert who can speak to the student loan debt crisis someone who can speak to access to higher education someone who can speak to the loss of the arts in college & what that means to society

