

This reptile can camouflage with its environment.

We are seeing this reptile tomorrow.

This largest land animal communicates through vibrations.

Many of these primates sleep while sitting upright in trees.

The color of their fur is not always accurate to their name.

This beautifully striped mammal can imitate the call of other animals.

These large-tusked marine mammals can weigh up to 1.5 tons!

These skilled tree-top navigators are known for their red fur.

This animal's name means "river horse" in Greek.

Although flightless, this is the world's largest bird.

