

You are surrounded by lovely pin trees! Can you find a pine cone? Fun fact: pine cones contain the pine tree's seeds.

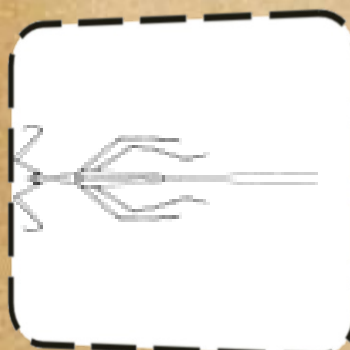

Can you spot a goose? Are there any goose babies? A baby goose is called a gosling.

Find a pebble and throw it into the water? What sound does it make? Do you see the rings?

Can you spot a fish? Submerged in the water? Submerged means under the surface.

Look at the water's surface. Can you see the little water striders. Striding along the surface of the water?

Can you spot a duck? Male mallard ducks have shiny green heads. Can you find a family of ducks?

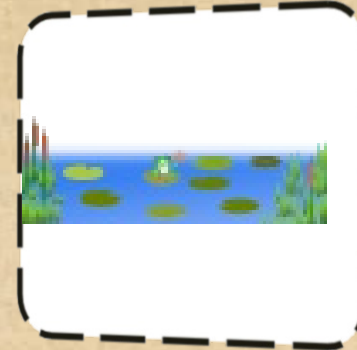

Do you hear a bird call? Would you like to sing along?

Can you spot a turtle? A family of turtles? What are they doing? Basking in the sun, or swimming, or are they surfacing for air?

Look into the murky water. Do you see any pretty red lily pads?

Look into the water. Do you see a reflection in the water? What is it of? Do you see your reflection?

