

Built by prisoners, says the lore, I help sailors find the shore.

I hope you know your geometry. My name means there are 8 sides to me.

I'm big and red- not easy to hide! Ask the driver for the cost of a ride.

I'm built like a church but people don't come to pray anymore. I even used to be a home for the poor.

The owners of the island used to live here. Take a peek inside if the window is clear.

This isn't Dexter's, I'm sorry to say. Doctors used to study bacteria and disease here back in the day.

Before the vaccine, smallpox was no joke. I was the first place to receive infected folk.

If you cross this bridge you'll get to another borough. It's where Jessica is from to be quite thorough.

Try to find the presidents head. Make sure to tell Jessica you need to be fed!

THE END!
