

Be sure to send all health papers and information to this office before school starts

This is a "special" place where students learn how to structure & express their creativity.

These people can continue to help with your transition

Pizza day and breakfast served here have been known to be the students' "favorites"

This person's office is near the main office, but you are more likely to find her getting to know the students/classes

Students learn how to be healthy and active through sports and fun exercise games

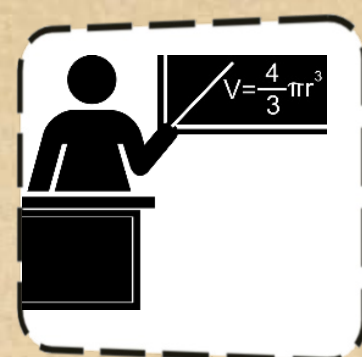

These people are there to help your child and family through "tough" times

Burn off some energy and breath fresh air

Be sure to check here for that lost hat or mitten

Keeping close contact with this person in this room will help your child succeed
