

This is a place where I wash my hands

This is a center where practice writing my name, alphabet, and words in my journal

This is a center where I practice my shapes, numbers, and practice sorting bears

This is a center where I can show you how to build house, and play train track

This is a center where I pretend to cook and talk on the phone

This is the place where I use markers, crayons, and paint to be creative

At this center, we plant seeds, we play with sea creatures, and learn our body parts

Please take me to the center where I can show you how to build with legos

This is a place where I listen to a story, learn to count, and learn my alphabet

This is a center where I can pick out books and read
