

On a night long ago I shone very bright. The Wise Men followed me to a wonderful sight.

I'm furry and I climb up trees to get my honey from those darn pesky bees.

Santa travels around the ____ in one night, to all boys and girls in bed snug and tight.

I stand straight and tall. I am a soldier who will not fall.

A stable was the place where the Baby Jesus was born. Where Shepherds and Wise Men went to adorn.

Strap me to your feet, away we will go. Don't step on any ones toe.

I glide through the snow, but look out I don't like to go slow.

The sky is our road when we pull a big sled. You can't see us though, for you should be in bed.

I love to glow and breath is my foe.

Look for a husband and wife dressed in red. Hurry, it's late, they may be in bed.
