

This is something the teacher writes with on the white board. one is red the other is blue.

This is something you use when the teacher tells you to open it.

This is something the teacher tells you to do when you get home to turn in tomorrow.

This is something you need to write on everyday.

This is something you need to bring to class everyday to you. it is used to correct or make changes.

This is something you need to bring to class to make you think everyday.

This is something you need to before you come to class. It is proper that you get at least 8 hours of this.

This is something that is yellow and when you plant it grows and you can eat it.

This is something you need to do before your stomach makes this sound.

This is something you need to get to places and it has four wheels.

