

In Sochi, it's cold and your feet might go numb; but in her room you'll stay warm playing piano and drum.

She teaches social studies here in middle school; her students will study the Olympics with a cool, new tool.

The Olympics in Russia are far, far away; but here you can read about them every Friday.

The road to the Olympics is a long, hard path; she clears the way through middle school math.

Here you can google to your hearts content; about Sochi, the Olympics and any event.

Her class is unique, it combines 4th and 5th grade; to get to the Olympics you must persevere and not fade

The theme of the Olympics is "Hot. Cool. Yours." This fun place has 2 teachers, 2 rooms and 2 doors.

Her classes practice things like perspective and hue; Olympians must drill to improve their skills too!

For her, Olympic sports are part of each day; she trains future athletes in sport and in play.

This Olympic hunt might end with some candy; for some at H.T. day could end with friend Sandie.