

There are a number of boats and ships in the computer room and the rumpus room. Books don't count. How many can you find?

Here is a literary challenge. Find the book that helped to change the history of our country.

Find Sarah and her Gun! Where is she?

There is a tea party going on somewhere...where?

There are many animals in the living room. How many can you find?

Where are three teeny, tiny little books stacked up together?

Somewhere in the computer room is a Rembrandt. Where is it and what does it look like?

Find something from the Louvre....

Find a sea horse.

There are some turtles in the computer room. How many?

