

Example of a binder

Active ingredient in the form of a granular powder or liquid gel enclosed by a shell

This fizzes when dissolved in water

Use this to make a sugar coated tablet

This is considered a dispersion

Active ingredients are completely dissolved in a liquid

This medication is available in a variety of different forms. (Ex oral, topical, parenteral)

This medication is available in different salts.

Example of a colloid

Used to create suppositories

