

Find out the name and a special interest of each librarian

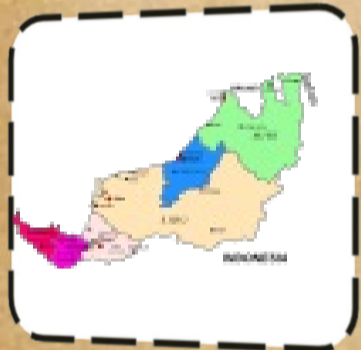

Find a novel. Write down the call number and the author's name. What is the correlation?

Use the catalog to find the call number of a book on Elizabethan England. Find it on the shelf and take a picture with your phone.

Find out what the media technician does in the library and in the school.

Using the signs at the end of the shelves, in which call number range can you find books on the history of Asia?

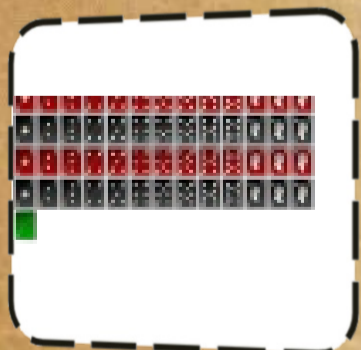

Using the catalog, find the call number for A Dictionary of Literary and Thematic Terms. Who published it and what is the copyright date?

Find a book about the life of the author, O. Henry. What is the call number? How is this different than the other call numbers?

Under what category would you find Short Stories? Fiction or Nonfiction? Circle one.

Find the set of books called Short Stories for Students. Looking up any article, what information will it give you about elements of a short story?

Open the Database LitFinder for Students. Look up Guy DeMaupassant. Copy the source citation in the article.

