

Where We eat lunch, lies a place where periwinkle was born. Go there to find your next clue and compete an activity

Now to the place, where we work and read, the library is where your next mission lies.

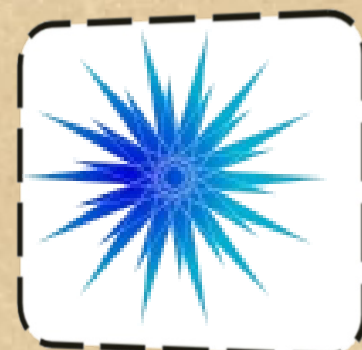

Now to the place were we love to learn, room 216 is where your next task is

This place is where we discover new things, make mixtures and other fun things. The science lab is your next mission

Now head down to where we pray, singing songs every Friday, for your next job

To end of the great periwinkle day, head to where we run and play!
