

This instrument is long and skinny and has many holes. Many students at Benchmark own them. It likes to hang out where your parents sit in the garden.

You are doing great. The next instrument is quite odd, really, because they use to use them to wash clothes before there were washing machines. You can find it in a big ball on campus.

Good job! Next on the list is a tall instrument that has tiny seeds in it. Its name starts with the picture you see and ends in stick. It is a lot of fun and can be found where we hang our American flag.

Four more to go until you reach the prize! This next instrument is carved out of wood and looks just like a frog. It really sounds like one too when the wooden beater is rubbed across the ridges in the frog's back. This one likes to hang out where Miss Angel's club makes things grow!

On to the next one! This instrument makes beautiful sounds in all different keys. It is too big to be moved easily and can be for classical music or fun fast paces songs! You can find a picture of it where the kids really swing!

Just a few left to go! This instrument is very small and is played by blowing on it and moving your mouth and fingers in different areas to change the pitch. It can be found where kids shoot hoops.

You found it again! Our next instrument is popular in Hawaii and is played by strumming the strings. It can be acoustic or plugged in to an amplifier. It can be found hanging out near the 1st grade building on the side where kids and parents have picnics at lunch.

The next instrument is round, wooden with metal jingles attached all the way around it. You can strike it like a drum or shake it like a rattle. You'll find it where the grass is green but not real.

A few more to go! The next instrument are either silver or gold and make a loud high pitched noise when hit together. It can be found under a bench that looks like an animal.

The last instrument for today is a small fun instrument that you only have to blow into to play! It makes a funny sounds that changes with the pitch of your voice! Once you find it in the school bus, return your paper to me for a special treat!
