

It is Christmas Eve and the family is all near...There is no better time to go get mommy a beer! :)

Now that mom is peaceful this game can truly start, head over to Dad, who truly knows his part.

Candy canes are sweet, but they don't warm your feet Walk over to the door and look for a bag on the floor.

Santa likes artwork you see But it is not under the tree, Find the beautiful statue and you will find something staring back at you.

To color you need crayons and something to write on. Go to the place where Grandma plays on the book of Face.

Here you will work to find a few words for a time. Take turns with the words and don't act like turds.

The game is near done,the prize almost won. One must earn it to learn it. Five push ups please, only Peyton may use her knees.

Now off to get a cookie. Don't be distracted by the wookie. Who only wants to serve you and give the next clue.

Next to Grandma and Papa you will go because they always know it all. Take her and Papa to the tree,so we can all see.

Now we hope to make clear, Just why you are here. A huge gift from your grands will make clear the plans.
