

An Adult with their baby or young

An animal that starts its lifecycle as an egg

A living thing that physically changes appearance during one of their life cycle stages (not just in size)

An animal that is important to indigenous peoples in Canada

An animal who has a baby that looks very different in appearance from its adult (both stages may not be here today)

An animal that is considered endangered

An animal that lives in the Arctic

An animal that can be found in Saskatchewan

An animal that can be found in or around Nova Scotia

Your group's favourite animal you saw today

