

I do not sink, I do not float, I live aquatic with my yellow coat

Upon the porcelain throne, how do you gaze on eyes your own?

I like to lay about, and mind YOUR business with my snout!

I am big, I am fluffy, I am blue, but don't mistake me for #2

If you're up high, you'll see down below, and peak with your eye, surrounded by yellow

There are only two letters in my six letter name, figure it out, you've almost won this game

I may look dead, but when I wake, my wings will open, and your breath I'll take

By walking feet you'll see, a silent feline with a body like a tree

I go up, down, and nowhere at the same time, I am not for play, I must incline

You sit on it, but you cannot take it with you
